SHAMPAINE-BISH CONNECTS ANOTHER CANDIDATE WITH THEIR IDEAL FRANCHISE

Tucson, AZ – May 25, 2010 - Shampaine-Bish Franchise Development, a leading franchise brokerage firm, announced a deal between Mark Seker of Portland, Oregon and Tutor Doctor of Toronto, Canada. Tutor Doctor specializes in one-on-one, in-home educational services throughout the US, Canada and Europe, and just recently moved into the Oregon market.

"I'm excited to be on the team," said Mark Seker, who has a proven track record in business, primarily in the tech services industry. "I'm looking forward to building a business that provides me with a way to help kids and their families".

Seker chose Tutor Doctor after working with Dan Bish of Shampaine-Bish. "Shampaine-Bish took me through the research process very much like a realtor might help someone buy a home. With over 3,100 franchises out there, I had no idea where to start. Once Dan understood my goals, he presented several franchises that were good fits, and then helped me do the analysis necessary to make a final decision. I could never have done it without them."

"It is always so rewarding to see a candidate come to us, who we then help find the kind of business that they are excited to own" commented Dan Bish, Co-founder, Shampaine-Bish. "Mark had a good idea of what he didn't want, and we were able to help him through the process to find what he did want."

Founded in 1999, Tutor Doctor has become a leader in providing affordable one-on-one instruction to both students and adults by offering in-home tutoring to families. Their recent expansion into the United States creates many opportunities for those seeking franchises.
